

Submission to electricity transmission company land access Statement of Expectations

Submission received through Engage Victoria

From 24 March to 19 April 2022, the commission accepted submissions on our draft Statement of Expectations for electricity transmission company land access via Engage Victoria. On the 4 April 2022 we hosted a public webinar on the project, followed by a meeting with industry representatives on 5 April 2022. We have used these submissions to inform our final decision.

Only consultation questions with a response are included.

Name: Craig Woods

Stakeholder/interest group: Landholder

Q5. What has worked well in relation to prior instances of land access?

It has exposed the amateur approach Ausnet has employed

Q6. What key challenges have you faced under current land access arrangements?

Dealing with persistent bullying from Ausnet

Q7. What information do you consider you need prior to land access to feel comfortable with an exercise of a right to access land?

The legality of coming on my land with the aim of ruining my lifestyle

Q8. Do you think the principles of the draft Statement of Expectations on land access address issues of concern to you?

No

Q9. What information do you think we should collect about a transmission companies' performance in relation to land access and frequency?

Stop them bullying me

Q10. Is there anything else you want us to consider when finalising this Statement of Expectations?

There are alternatives

False advertising is going on today with a large add in the local paper showing a wind turbine against a sunset and talking about the transmission project which has no connection to generation
