

Project-based activities process map: benchmark rating

This process map shows the steps businesses must follow to receive Victorian energy efficiency certificates (VEECs) using the benchmark rating method.

We may elect to do a site inspection at certain stages of this process.

While this process map shows the scoping plan and project plan being completed separately, you can opt to submit them to us at the same time.

For all documents and forms related to this process, visit www.esc.vic.gov.au/pba.

<sup>1</sup> To obtain a rating, you must measure for a total of 12 months. You must complete the baseline measurement within the 18 months before project works start.

* You can start undertaking work on site before these stages are complete.
