

At 5 cents per Kw FiT the owners of small photo electric generators are being duped, their saving will not pay for the system in its life expectancy. That means the Solar industry is being risked to improve the big retainers bottom line. Which is far in excess of fair returns from an investment at the small generators expense.

William A Lahn

Echuca